GENERAL TERMS AND CONDITIONS

INTRODUCTION

The contract is in force from when you pay your booking fee with the intention of paying Altered Images Photography Limited (Altered Images) for photographing your wedding on your chosen date. You are required to return the contract date and with both partners’ signatures. Failure to return the signed contract does not however invalidate the contract nor absolve you from the acceptance of the Terms & Conditions laid out in it.

1. COPYRIGHT:

The Copyright Designs and Patents Acts assign the copyright of the images to the photographer(s). “The Client” may reproduce, copy and distribute the photographs for personal use only. This is known as a “license to print.”

The client is not authorised to copy and / or pass any photographs or derived products to any third-party person and / or organisation for commercial use without first gaining permission in writing from the copyright owner (The photographer). This includes other vendors booked by the client for his or her wedding.

[WHAT THIS MEANS: Please don’t give my images to any of your wedding suppliers without asking my permission first. The copyright of those images belongs to me; I give you a personal license to print and use for non-commercial use only.]
2. DISPLAY

The client(s) hereby allow(s) the photographer(s) to display any photograph covered by this contract and to generally promote the business in advertising, brochures, magazine articles, websites, sample albums and prints, venue and other vendor samples, and other such material, providing the images used are used lawfully and without damage to the client(s).

[WHAT THIS MEANS: You allow me to use your images for my marketing. I promise NOT to use images of you that may be embarrassing or that will cause you upset.]

3 LICENSES, COVERAGE AND REPRODUCTION

a) The photographer shall be granted artistic license in relation to the poses photographed and the locations used. The photographer's judgment regarding the location, poses and number of photographs taken shall be deemed correct. The photographer will not be held liable for photographs that do not, for whatever reason, meet the photographer's quality criteria and are not shown to the client.

b) Photographs taken during the event will be at the discretion of the photographer although every effort will be made to comply with The Client(s) requirements.

c) The photographer shall endeavour to photograph all individuals as requested by the client(s) but no responsibility will be taken by the photographer for any omissions.

d) For a booking involving a church ceremony and at certain venues, the photographer's movements are sometimes restricted by the official in charge. The area from which the photographer can cover the ceremony may not be the photographer's choice and the photographer cannot accept responsibility for any obstructed view should this be the case. The use of artificial lighting (flash) may be restricted or prohibited. The photographing of parts or the whole ceremony may be restricted or prohibited.

e) The photographer shall endeavour to capture all the moments throughout the day as they occur. However, because of the fluid nature of the event, some moments might not be recorded, or not recorded for logistical reasons.
f) Where the client provides a list of photographs to be taken it is incumbent upon the client to ensure the list is in an order that is logical and manageable within time constraints and venue restrictions. Clients are advised to think carefully about any photograph list.

g) Please note that any alterations made to the booking by the client(s), once details have been confirmed, may only be made at the discretion of the photographer. In some circumstances (such as the change of ceremony date for a wedding) the photographer may be unable to accommodate these alterations due to a conflict of commitments. Under these circumstances the photographer is not liable to compensate the client(s) in any way whatsoever.

h) Due to a variety of lighting conditions and the limitations of digital sensors, some colours may alter throughout a set of photographs. Please note that certain colours do not reproduce exactly in print.

i) It is understood that all photographic printing is undertaken within the technical limitations of the process and that colours may not be identical over the whole range of colours within a subject. It is also understood that prints made at different times or in different sizes may be variable in colour balance.

j) Due to the limitations of computer monitors it is understood that (1) images appear differently per the specification of each monitor (2) prints will not match images rendered on any computer monitor.

k) All print and presentation sizes quoted are approximate and subject to the discretion of the photographer. Print sizes are at a ratio of 3:2. Other ratios for photographic print sizes may require re-sizing by the client at the time of ordering.

l) All equipment is checked regularly and maintained fully. Backup equipment is taken to all events. Although all reasonable steps are taken to avoid failure the photographer will not be responsible for photographs that are not produced due to technical failure, either at the shooting or processing stage.

m) Where images are made available for use with a personal computer the default operating system shall be latest Apple Mac OS X and Microsoft Windows operating systems. Products may not function on other or earlier operating systems.
n) Where images are made available for use on a DVD player reasonable steps are taken to ensure compatibility, but DVD discs may not play on all DVD players particularly older models.

[WHAT THIS MEANS: I can’t be in every single place at every time. I may miss something. I may not be allowed to photograph something. I make the final decision on locations, content, poses, style etc. of the images. If you provide a list I will stick to it where reasonably practical. Printing at supermarket may not look as good as prints produced by us. I’ll make sure that my camera kit works – but occasionally and very rarely technology breaks down and I can’t be held responsible for that.]

4. PRICES

a) All standard photographic services and optional extras specified in this contract and paid for in full before the wedding are supplied at the prices ruling on the date of signing of the contract. Optional extras not paid for in full before the wedding, are supplied at the prices ruling at the time of receipt of the order.

The booking fee secures the photographer’s services for the day and is non-refundable in any event. If the booking was not made at our premises, then there will be a “cooling off period” of 14 full days after payment is made. A full refund will be made during this period if the Client(s) decide to cancel. The photographer will decline any other enquiries for the date upon receiving this fee. c) It is the client’s responsibility to ensure payment for any outstanding balance is paid in full NO LATER THAN FOUR WEEKS prior to the contracted date. You MUST allow sufficient time for cheque clearance. Non-receipt of the full balance by the due date will be deemed as cancellation of the contract by the client(s).

d) Failure to pay four (4) weeks before the date of your wedding will be deemed a breach of contract and result in The Photographer not attending your wedding.

e) All additional goods must be paid for in full on ordering. This includes extra prints, albums, special editing and rendering of images, high-resolution digital files, high-resolution long-term galleries, and any other services ordered after the event.

f) Title to all goods remains with Altered Images until paid for in full by the client(s).

g) All the cheques should be made payable to Altered Images

b) The photographer may contact other photographers if he/she cannot attend your booking due to clause 7a. However, it may prove difficult or impossible to find a skilled replacement photographer at short notice or at the same price.

c) In the event of cancellation by the photographer, or in the unlikely event of total photographic failure the photographer’s liability shall be limited to a full refund of any fees paid.

a) It is the client’s responsibility to take care of and look after his or her own personal effects and belongings. The Photographer does not accept liability for items left with The Photographer for any reason. Any items left with The Photographer are left entirely at your own risk.

b) The photographer may suggest suitable and reasonable arrangements for photographs to the client and it is assumed the client accepts liability for those photographs should the client agree to the photographer’s request.

c) The client accepts liability for the photographer's health and safety whilst the photographer is working in client homes. (This includes but is not limited to the homes of family members). Email is not a reliable method of notification due to the unpredictable operation of message scanners. You MUST request and receive a confirmation by email if you choose to use this method.

b) We will try to give you an estimated production time and estimated delivery date. Please note that autumn is the busiest period for album production and times are longer than in the spring.

There will be no charge for any digital alterations requested for photos which will be used in any printed products ordered. Alterations where requested will be carried out if possible and reasonable. These include but not limited to figure enhancing, tattoo removal, obtrusive object removal etc.

Wherever possible the photographer will attempt to avoid distractions in the background; however, the nature of weddings and wedding photography makes this hard to achieve. Where possible background objects will be removed if requested.

The photographer reserves the right to refuse requests for any photo manipulation where, in the opinion of the photographer, the requests are excessive or may cause offense.

[WHAT THIS MEANS: I will do my best to edit photographs as you request but I cannot make the impossible possible. I will not remove tattoos or straighten noses etc unless you ask me to.
